

Tajné značky na pražských groších Václava II.?

J i ř í H Á N A

L a d i s l a v T O M E K

 66, 2010, s. 113–115

Secret marks on the Prague grossi struck under Wenceslas II?

Two Prague grossi struck under Wenceslas II with annulets in unusual marginal places are described. In the first case, a small annulet (ca 0.8 mm) is placed in the bottom part of the ‘W’ letter in the king’s name in the inner obverse marginal legend. In the second case, the same annulet is placed in the reverse of another grossus, between ‘the P’ letter and the ‘R’ letter of the word ‘PRAGENSES’. It is hard to speculate about meaning of the marks, but it is necessary to mention the fact, that they are not registered in literature.

 secret marks; Prague grossus; Wenceslas II (1278–1305).

 značky tajné; pražský groš; Václav II. (1278–1305).