Hoard of trading bellers from Hall am Kocher (Swabian Hall) found in Svatý Kříž (Cheb district)

In 2006, a hoard of medieval coins was found dispersed in soil in a forest region to the south of the village called Svatý Kříž. The hoard is represented by 91 bellers struck in Hall am Kocher. It was buried between the last third of the 13th century and the beginning of the 14th century. It is the very first group find of that sort in the region. In context of new data, it is clear that import of the coins from Hall to the Cheb (Eger) region was very intensive around 1300.
